To apply for this vacancy please contact your work coach at your Jobcentre with the vacancy details. They will refer you for the position on the system (this is a requirement of the Kickstart Scheme). You can then apply directly to the National Literacy Trust.

Email your CV and a covering letter ASAP to recruitment@literacytrust.org.uk. Interviews will be online in the first instance.

About the National Literacy Trust

One person in six has poor literacy skills that impact on every area of their life. A child without good reading, writing and communication skills will struggle to succeed at school, and as an adult they could be locked out of the job market. Poverty doubles the likelihood that, by the age of five, a child's literacy skills will be below average.

The National Literacy Trust gives children and young people from disadvantaged communities the literacy skills to succeed in life. We work with schools and other education settings, with communities and partners, and directly with children and families. Our research and analysis make us the leading authority on literacy and drive our interventions.

We are a rapidly growing organisation, with ambitious plans and amazing staff. We have more than 25 years' experience of delivering programmes and campaigns to improve literacy, and work closely with both national and local government. Our funders and partners include well-known brands such as McDonald's and Amazon, as well as many others. We have around 120 members of staff, and this includes around a third who are based in targeted locations around the country to support delivery of our community activity and programmes. The rest of our team are based in London, but many work flexibly from home and attend the office when their roles require it so there are different faces in the office each day.

About this opportunity

You will work across our fundraising and development team, providing administrative support for activity including corporate partnerships, individual giving, challenge events, donor engagement and cultivation, special events and applications to trusts and foundations.

You will assist with event management and meeting planning, support relationship management and work with partners, update and maintain records on our CRM system, help create content for our websites and social media, support fundraising campaigns, carry out desk research, support finance processes, and provide other administrative support where necessary, including arranging travel and accommodation.

You will have a chance to develop experience in fundraising, campaigns, partnership development and marketing, as well as practical skills like copy writing, using our CMS and CRM systems, and more general office admin support.

You will be able to work regularly from home, but we will otherwise expect you to work from our office in Vauxhall, so that we can provide in-person supervision, support and access to resources and equipment you may need. You can also expect to take part in virtual team meetings and individual meetings with your supervisor and other members of staff. We have systems in place to support strong internal communications and cross-team working, as well as organisational culture and staff wellbeing, as part of our approach to managing effective working across a dispersed team.

You may also attend fundraising events to represent the charity and see our work in action.

Employability support

As part of the Kickstart scheme, employers are required to provide young people with employability skills training and help them secure employment post-placement.

We will also work with partners to provide further opportunities and support for our Kickstart placements. This will include:

- A dedicated progression coach to support you both during your placement and after
- Peer networking and team building opportunities with other young people in the Kickstart scheme
- Fun and interactive bite-sized training in areas such as making the most out of your placement, presentation skills, effective team working, building confidence and learning how to network, making your CV stand-out and mock interview practice
- Supporting with finding and applying for jobs
- Mentoring support

Working with us

Our people are our most important asset and we value and respect diversity in all its forms (seen and unseen). We particularly welcome applications from Black and Asian candidates, people with disabilities and candidates from the communities in which we work. We would like to increase representation of these groups among our staff as we know greater diversity will lead to an even greater impact for our work. We are also committed to providing training, mentoring and support to help us bring new perspectives and experiences into the organisation, and ensure that our staff have the skills and understanding they need to talk confidently about the challenges communities face and our role in addressing them.

We encourage a flexible working approach that allows each person in our team to work in a way that suits their circumstances and enables them to contribute to our success, whoever they are.
