About the opportunity

We have invited submissions of videos for the 'My Birmingham Story' campaign, in which young people and adults tell a story about their connection to Birmingham.

Permission for use

I am a teacher/professional signing this form on behalf of a group of children. I can confirm that the children have had permission granted by their parents/carers/guardians for videos of them to be used by the National Literacy Trust and its partner organisations in the following ways:

- Reports, printed materials and presentations
- Websites & social media channels
- Newsletters
- Press releases and local or national media

I confirm that I have the authority to sign this on behalf of all the individuals involved in this event (children and adults), granting consent for them to be photographed/recorded/filmed, and for those images/recordings to be used in any and all of the ways described above across all media.

As the primary safe-guarder of the children involved in this project, I understand that it is my responsibility to ensure that media permission is granted by the parents/carers of the children involved in this project, at its outset.

I accept that it is completely my responsibility, (and that I indemnify NLT against any claims made against it) in cases where I have not obtained media permission from the child's parents/carers, to ensure that they do not submit a video to the 'My Birmingham Story' campaign.

I understand that the National Literacy Trust and their partner organisations may use the content referred to above in perpetuity unless consent is revoked in writing.

I do not need to approve the image or video footage before it is used.

I understand that I will not be paid for any use of this contribution now or in the future.

I give permission for my contact details to be held by the National Literacy Trust and used to contact me if necessary, in relation to the content referred to above. I understand that my contact details will not be passed on to any other parties without my written consent.
